

March 2026 Update!

Coming Up This Friday!

Ready to become a desert defender? Meet us at Historic Canoa Ranch this Friday! This interactive session will teach you how to distinguish our beautiful and vital native plants and trees from invasive intruder species that threaten our community and raise our wildfire risk. Learn why native plants are the backbone of our ecosystem and gain the practical skills needed to protect your own backyard.

Green Valley Land Stewardship Workshop

THE UNIVERSITY OF ARIZONA
Cooperative Extension

Friday, March 6, 2026

9:30AM-11:30AM

Historic Canoa Ranch | 5375 S. I-19 Frontage Road

Protecting our community starts with understanding it. This interactive workshop offers residents the tools to become active stewards of our environment. We will delve into community resource mapping to better understand our shared lands, followed by hands-on training in invasive plant species identification and the appreciation of native flora.

Participants will also gain vital insights into erosion control and the critical role of riparian ecosystems in maintaining our local watershed. Whether you're a long-time resident or new to the area, this event will empower you to protect and preserve the natural beauty of our community.
